I have been living in an Invitation Homes property for almost 2 years now and my experience has been nothing but excellent. When I fell behind on rent, I reached out to the local office and they patiently worked with me as I waited to receive government assistance. It was a stressful time for me but they were always kind, always prompt in their response, and even when they had to do the difficult parts of their job they always showed empathy toward me. I needed all of that so it was a blessing to me during this process.
